

Twenty-Ninth Report of the Librarian of the Maine State Library: For the Years 1899 and 1900 (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from Twenty-Ninth Report of the Librarian of the Maine State Library: For the Years 1899 and 1900 To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of Maine: In obedience to the requirements of the laws of the State, it becomes my duty and pleasure to lay before you a report of the Maine State Library for the years 1899-1900. Growth Of the Library. The permanent growth of the library during the past two years has been remarkable. The appropriations for that period were not up to the average amount of former years, and the amount drawn therefrom in payment for extra labor and material has been in excess of any sum used for these purposes for any like period since 1893. Notwithstanding these facts the number of books and pamphlets placed on the shelves of the library during the past two years, is six thousand two hundred and ninety-one, nearly fifteen hundred more than have been secured at any former period of two years. There have also been purchased for the traveling libraries, two thousand one hundred volumes, which really form a permanent addition to the library, for the free use of the citizens of Maine residing in distant parts of the State. This flourishing condition has been brought about by earnest work in enlarging the exchange of documents, reports, and duplicates, with other state libraries and with universities and historical associations throughout the United States.
